Allowances of Rajkumari —

I think the Maharaja of this State should each get an allowance of Rs 40,000 a year. They may draw it with effect from the date of their demise of the Late Rajkumari when the allowance of the Yuvaraja ceases.

Submitted to His Highness.

In accordance with the orders passed by His Highness the late Maharaja on the 22nd March 1937, each of the daughters of His Highness the late Yuvaraja is to be paid an allowance of Rs 24,000 per annum from the date of attaining majority (according to Hindu Law, that is, 18 years) or from the date of marriage, whichever is earlier. In pursuance of these orders, instructions were issued to the Comptroller in May last that the payment of Rs 24,000 to the eldest daughter, Rajakumari Vijayalakshmammanni Avaru may be arranged for with effect from the date of her attaining majority, i.e., from the 28th August 1940.

In view of the present higher status of these three children, as sisters of His Highness the Maharaja, I think that a revision of the scale of allowances already sanctioned is necessary and that these allowances should be suitably enhanced. Considering that an allowance of Rs 40,000 per annum is being allowed to Rajakumari Leelavathi Avaru and Rajakumari Channajammanni Avaru, I beg to suggest for His Highness's gracious consideration that the allowance to be paid to each of the three sisters of His Highness may similarly be fixed at Rs 40,000 per annum. These allowances may be allowed to each of them with effect from the date of the demise of His Highness the late Maharaja from which date the allowance of Rs 1,50,000 that was being paid to the Yuvaraja ceased with a corresponding reduction of charge to the State Revenues. The full amount of the allowance may not be needed for current expenditure in the case of the younger children, but any savings effected in the annual allotments can be funded and made available to meet future demands as and when required.
